CHAPTER V
CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATION

A. Conclusion

The findings reported in the four chapter discussed previously have given us a description about the result of this research. Here, the researcher will draw some concluding remarks based on the statements of the problem of this research. They are:

1. The writer found that the English on Sky textbook contained three genres. They are procedure, report and narrative. The dominant text on this book is report text. The writer found seven report texts. Furthermore, the writer found only one procedure text in this book.

2. In addition, the writer analyzed the lexical densities. After analyzing, the writer concluded as below:

No	Title of Reading Text	Genre	Unit	Page	CW	GFW	LD (%)
1	Eight glasses of water a day keep the doctor away	Proce-dure	1	40	97	102	48.74
2	Snowy Owls, Large Prey Birds	Report	2	66-67	114	80	58.76
3	Kangaroo (Macropus rufus)	Report	2	68	97	70	56.25
4	DURIAN	Report	3	96	60	96	39.10
5	Coconuts	Report	3	97	126	116	52.07
6	The Nile River	Report	4	134	121	88	57.89
7	The Bengawan	Report	4	136-137	74	64	53.62

	Solo
8	River and Speed of Flow	Report	4	139	37	40	48.05
9	The boy who cried "wolf"	Narrati-ve	5	164	105	98	51.72
10	The Fox and the Crow	Narrati-ve	5	165-166	90	87	50.85

CW= Content Words

GFW= Grammatical Function Words

LD= Lexical Density

No	Title of the Reading Text	Qualification of Lexical Density
		High (60%-70%)	Quit (50%-60%)	Lower (40%-50%)
1	Eight glasses of water a day keep the doctor away			√
2	Snowy Owls, Large Prey Birds		√
3	Kangaroo (Macropus rufus)		√
4	DURIAN			√
5	Coconuts		√
6	The Nile River		√
7	The Bengawan Solo		√
8	River and Speed of Flow			√
9	The boy who cried "wolf"		√
10	The Fox and the Crow		√

From ten of the reading texts, there are three lower lexical densities (easily to be understood), seven quite lexical densities. However, there is no the high one (difficult to be understood), most of them have quite lexical densities. It means that the texts are not quite difficult to be understood.

B. Recommendations

After drawing the conclusion, then the writer present some recommendations as follows:

1. Since the writer just analyzed the lexical density in reading text, it gave little explanation about genre and lexical density. So, this study can be used as comparison for another study which is related to the lexical density.

2. For the authors, they can use this study to present the textbook with balance composition between content words and grammatical function words of lexical density in order the students can understanding about the reading text.

3. For the English teachers, they can apply the result of this study as feedback on their teaching activities; improve their knowledge and experience in choosing appropriate book, so that the students are better in reading skill.

Finally, the researcher realizes that this final project is far from being perfect. Because of limiting condition, constructive critics and advice are really accepted for the perfection of the final project. Hopefully, this final project will be useful for all of us. Amen.
